CHIEF OF POLICE OF WEST NEWTON IS MURDERED DEATH RESULTS FROM SHOT IN ABDOMEN

Attempts to Put a Stop to Wild Party at 3 O'Clock This Morning in Water Street When He Was Fired On By Negro

DIED IN A FEW MINUTES

State Police And Citizens of Town Scouring Hills For Fugitive. Police of Charleroi Notified And On Lookout. Had Served For Many Years

Chief of Police George (Bode) Rae, of West Newton, was murdered this morning at 3 o'clock, when he was shot through the abdomen, by James Scott, a colored man, who is now a fugitive from justice. Citizens of West Newton, aided by State police, are scouring the hills looking for Scott, who immediately made his escape after firing the shot. Police of all the surrounding towns have been notified to be on the lookout for Scott, who is 20 years old, 5 feet tall, wore a blue check suit, light cap, dress shoes with rubber heels. He is described as being light in color with fine features.

A colored man and two colored women who were with Scott at the time of the shooting are being held in the West Newton jail as witnesses and they have furnished the police with clues that may lead to his arrest.

The shooting occurred on Water street this morning when the chief of police attempted to quiet down a wild party that was being staged by the two couples.

A dance and booze party for colored people had been in progress on the outskirts of West Newton, being attended by colored people who are employed about a new mine that is being opened by the Westmoreland Coal company. Early this morning the two couples wandered away from the hall and landed in West Newton, coming down Water street, in a noisy and disorderly manner. Chief Rae and Al Presso, a friend, were in a restaurant at the time, eating a lunch and went out to put a stop to the noisy party. As the officer approached the party he asked what they had, if it was moonshine, and the reply was: "This is what we've got," a shot rang out and penetrating the abdomen of Rae. It is thought that Scott fired the shot from his coat pocket as he was not seen to raise his hand, by Presso.

Presso gave the alarm and several West Newton residents came to his aid and arrested the three other men and summoned medical aid for Rae, but he was dead before anything could be done for him.

Chief of Police Rae was a widower, with one child. He has served as an officer for West Newton for a number of years.

COUNTY SECOND IN BOOZE WAR

Four out of every five persons brought to trial upon charges of violating the liquor laws in Washington County during the last nineteen months were convicted. Records compiled by the State Police and dealing only with those prisoners arrested by the State Police patrols, show that 103 convictions were obtained in the Washington County Courts, while 27 persons were discharged. Thirty-five prisoners taken by the State Police are still awaiting trial, making a total of 162 persons arrested in Washington County by the State Police during the period extending from January 1, 1923 to July 31, 1924.

Jail sentences were imposed upon 56 of the 103 persons convicted. The heaviest sentence given was that of more than eighteen months, which was meted out to nine of the persons convicted. Six other violators of the liquor law were ordered to serve from six months to one year, 33 from two to six months, while 17 escaped with comparatively light sentences of two months or less. Seventeen men forfeited their bail bonds, while five were ordered to pay fines and costs before going free. Sixteen others were convicted and ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Washington County was second on the list of the 67 Counties of the State in the amount of fines collected from its liquor law offenders. During the nineteen month period the men convicted of violating the Volstead Act were ordered to pay the total of $67,115.43 in fines. That amount was exceeded only by Fayette County, where the State Police report shows that $117,000 was collected in fines imposed upon bootleggers and moonshine liquor salesmen.

Washington County was likewise second to Fayette County in the number of men sent to jail for violation of the Dry Laws. Fayette County, during the nineteen month period, had 221 "involuntary guests" who were sent to jail for flaunting the cause of law enforcement, the State Police report shows.

WOMAN CENSURES PRACTICE OPINES NOT HONORABLE

Hoboken, N. J., Sept. 16.—Extraordinary methods taken by some Americans to express their patriotism was censured by West Hoboken unit of The American Legion Auxiliary recently, when Mrs. W. C. Asper, president of the unit, introduced a resolution denouncing the use of models of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt in making novelty cakes of soap which are being sold in New York department stores.

Mrs. Asper said she found miniature busts of the former presidents on sale at the toilet articles counter of a New York store. Upon examination, she found that the busts were soap replicas of our national heroes "made in Germany." Mrs. Asper declared that Americans who sell and buy the soap figures are more guilty of the indignity than are the Germans who make them.

SIX QUESTIONED IN GIRLS DEATH

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 16.—When the torn body of young Elizabeth Johnson, farmer's daughter, was found in a clump of bushes a mile from her home, the first and only police theory produced thus far was that one of the girl's admirers had killed her.

In pursuing this theory, County Detective Ferdinand Davis today questioned six men friends of the slain girl.

Miss Johnson, who was 15, but mature and precocious, disappeared from her home five weeks ago. It was stated that the youths questioned today were not convicted, but their testimony may pass some light on the girl's movements prior to her disappearance and death.

A general alarm was sent out for a farm hand recently discharged by Elizabeth's father. This man, a World War veteran, was said to have been the last worker of the dead girl. He disappeared about the same time she did.

Burnworth and Patrolman William Hughes last evening on a warrant issued by the sheriff of Harrison county charging Wilson with a felony. Harrison county authorities, expecting Wilson to return to Monongahela, forwarded a warrant for his arrest to Chief Burnworth and the fugitive was located in a shed on Dry Run road, near the intersection with illegal sale of liquor, highway robbery, forcible entry and two charges of jumping bail.

DARROW WILL DEFEND GRANT

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Clarence Darrow, who successfully defended Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaire murderers, has promised to assist in saving Bernard Grant, a "back o' the yards" youth from hanging, according to Thomas E. Swanson, Attorney for Grant.

Darrow, now in seclusion at the summer home of the millionaire Loeb family at Charlevoix, Mich., will be back in time to add his weight to the pressure being brought to bear on Gov. Len Small to pardon the youth or commute the sentence, Swanson declared.

Swanson regards Darrow's enlistment as a most potent augury for success.

"I am very much interested in Grant's case," Swanson said Darrow told him just before he left for Charlevoix. "I am opposed to capital punishment and shall help you in the fight to save Grant."

Darrow made his offer without solicitation from me or any one," Swanson said.

W. J. Cummins, of Washington, Mike Zelensky, of Charleroi, and Dave Horwitz, of Pittsburgh, were picked up by the police on a disorderly charge and left forfeits of $12 for their appearance for a hearing. Rather than face the Burgess they thought it easier to forget about the $12, so did not appear last night.

Police Are Searching For Auto Driver

Chief S. S. Burnworth of the Monongahela police department, is conducting a search for the driver of a car thought to be a Dodge sedan, bearing Pennsylvania license No. 927-167, which, according to state highway department, was issued to Mrs. A. Hill, Smithdale, Allegheny county, which struck two automobiles on the Monongahela-Charleroi road, near the A. P. Fisher farm. The car, said to have been driven by a man, first crashed into a machine owned and operated by E. W. Hoover, of 428 Jackson street, Monongahela, and did considerable damage to the latter machine. The driver of the sedan did not stop, but continued at a fast rate of speed. The Hoover car was forced over an embankment by the crash. No one was injured. A short distance ahead, the sedan on the left side of the road, caused Dale Allen, of Lock No. 4, who was driving toward the oncoming machine, to leave the road and his car also went over an embankment and was put out of commission. The sedan continued on without stopping, although the occupants of the Hoover and the Allen car both secured the license number. Passing motorists set out in pursuit of the sedan but finding no trace of it notified the police department. Hoover reported considerable damage to his car and charges were preferred by both Hoover and Allen against the owner of the machine before Alderman R. L. Ellwood.

Terrific Battle Raged In the North of China. Manchurian War Lord's Forces Successful In Initial Clash According to Report

START OF DRIVE FOR PEKIN

Towns And Villages Deserted By Inhabitants, Carrying Household Goods As Though Trying to Escape An Earthquake

Shanghai, Sept. 16.—Reinforced by 300 Chi Lo troops sent out to his assistance by Wu Pei Fu, General Chi today began artillery preparation for major offensive against Shanghai.

Osaka, Japan, Sept. 16.—A terrific battle raged today in the North of China, where Chang Tso Lin's Mukden troops came into contact with the Chi Li army of Wu Pei Fu on Monday.

The Manchurian war lord's forces were everywhere successful in the initial clash, according to the Osaka Mainichi's correspondent, who is on the battlefield.

Chang's troops now completely control the town of Pau Ying Tse, 12 miles east of the important city of Chao Yang where the fighting started.

This conflict in the north is the start of the Manchurian leader's drive for Peking, and of warfare that is likely to prove far more decisive in China's civil war than the fighting around Shanghai, the correspondent telegraphs. Chang Tso Lin, however, denies taking the initiative.

The correspondent cables a dramatic picture of the confusion in the battle area, which is just within the border of the Pe Chi Li province, as follows: "Towns and villages in the vicinity have been completely deserted by their inhabitants, who fled, carrying household goods with them as though avoiding a pestilence or an earthquake."

"Stations along the Peking Mukden railway, along which the fighting centers are crowded with refugees, whose plight is most pitiful."

No one will oppose the name of "Black Jack" if it comes before the convention.

Today the Legion planned to honor all heroes of the World war. It is the day of all-Legion parade.

General Charles Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, arrived to review the parade.

THE JERSEY BULL FIGHT.

It would appear from the accounts, that a Jersey bull fight is about as much like the old-time Spanish bull fight as a game of tag is like murder. In fact, the bull fight which was stopped in Newark seems to have been little more than a sort of game of tag between the bull and the men, with only the latter in any sort of danger of getting hit quietly in the arena until the "enraged" bull is in some way tempted to charge them, doubtless by the waving of red flags and then they jump and run in the nick of time. Instead of a matador stabbing a bull to death, a clown makes merriment by allowing a bull to chase him and seeming to make a narrow escape from its horns.

Although at such moments the spectators get a bit of a thrill as well as material for laughter, the Jersey or Portuguese bull fight has been so denatured as to become almost ludicrous in comparison with the original cruel and deadly sport. The accounts leave the impression that the bull enjoyed chasing the clowns fully as much as the spectators enjoyed seeing the clowns run.

Why the anti-cruelty-to-animals folks interfered or attempted to interfere, is not very clear, unless they prejudged the performance on the basis of a misleading name, or reasoned that if the make-believe Jersey bull fight were allowed to pass the censorship the real thing might soon be attempted, which, of course, is not at all probable.

"FIREWORKS" TO START
IN THE OPENING BOUT
HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Although the card that the Athletic committee of the Charleroi Elks are putting on at the baseball park on Thursday night of this week is one of the classiest that has ever been put on here the fans of this vicinity will get a real thrill in the opening bout of the evening.

When the announcement was made that "Kid" Dudley, colored light heavyweight of Ohio, would meet Tommy O'Mara of Donora in the opening bout, no one had ever heard of the colored boy before, but yesterday this dusky individual arrived in Charleroi and worked out at the Hilltop Athletic in the afternoon. According to the showing made yesterday Dudley is all that he claims to be. He tips the scales a little over 175 pounds and is built up to that weight, and he looks as if Mr. O'Mara of Donora has his work all cut out for next Thursday evening.

The opening bout between Caddy DeMarco and Johnny Horvath promises to be a fitting ending to outdoor boxing in Charleroi. Horvath has not forgotten their last meeting at McKeesport and will do his utmost to gain the decision over the local boy, while if DeMarco should happen to lose it would be a serious setback for him in the coming engagements in the East, so that both boys have much more at stake in this engagement.

The other bouts between Judy Muraz and Eddie Bayne and Davy Davies and "Pug" Phillips are attracting attention.

PIRATES MAKE A CLEAN SWEEP AT BOSTON, 12 FRAMES

Boston, Sept. 15.—After skidding into a two run deficit which, as the game rolled on, threatened to enlarge the gap which separates them from the rest of the league, the Pirates this afternoon rose up like champions to set back a spunky outbreak of the lowly, but dangerous Braves. The Pirates had to go 12 innings to get a half-line decision, but decisions are as good as knockouts in this old game. The score was 4 to 3.

Rabbit Maranville once again came forth to save the day for the Pirates. Rab was a hero of the tenth, the double play genius of this star stood out on a McInnis slap which was meant to cross up the Pirates as Boston College Wilson conducted the winning counter at second base with none out.

The collegian blasted a double down the left field line as the starter of the first extra inning. Casey Stengel looked like Ruth at the plate in the clutch and the Pirate strategists used some excellent foresight by placing Casey on the empty first bag. The move was a dandy in many ways.

TONY NORMAN RUN INTO A SOCK WHICH
PUT HIM TO SLEEP

Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 15.—Emil Paluso knocked out Tony Norman of Pittsburgh, who is under the management of Jim Buchanan of Charleroi, in the sixth round of the scheduled 10 round bout here tonight. Both youngsters set a fast pace from the start with Norman displaying a slight edge in the first three, but in the latter three Paluso came fast. The knock-short right hand punch that landed back of Norman's right ear.

BERNSTEIN LAST NIGHT

In all probability the big scrap which was to have been fought between Caddy DeMarco and Johnny Dundee on Sept. 23 will have to be changed for last night at New York Jack Bernstein done what DeMarco would have done and won from the Scotch Wop easily. It is likely now that it will be DeMarco and Bernstein on that date for Dundee has announced that last night was his last fight.

After 12 years in the ring and with more than 450 battles to his credit, Dundee went down to a disastrous defeat at the hands of Jack Bernstein at the Queensboro Athletic club in the former feather champion's debut as a lightweight contender.

Dundee was not disgraced, although he took one of the nastiest lickings of his long and honorable career. When the smoke of battle cleared away Johnny sported a split right ear, a puffed and swollen face and a body that was red from waistline to armpit. Bernstein left the ring unmarked. Dundee was nearer a knockout than at any earlier time in his life except when Willie Jackson knocked him out in Philadelphia.

Time after time Bernstein sent Johnny back on his heels with left hooks that invariably found their mark. Time and time again Jack doubled up his ancient rival with vicious wallop to the stomach.

All Dundee seemed to have tonight was a heart, but a stout heart indeed. Not once did he waiver over the task, and when stung fought back like a tiger and forced Jack to slow his attack.

In the thirteenth, all previous sessions having gone to Bernstein, Dundee came out determined to turn the tide. Instead he took a terrific left hook to the chin that turned him around three times and he almost fell in his corner. Though Jack was after him, John kept enough wits to cover and Jack lost his chance. The next two sessions were of the toe-to-toe variety, Johnny trying repeatedly, but in vain to find Bernstein's button. He took a severe beating for his efforts.

A crowd of 9,531 paid $22,654 to see a fight which was a fight.

THE LAST STRIKE IS CALLED ON FRANK CHANCE

Los Angeles, Sept. 16.—The last strike has been called on one of baseball's most picturesque figures. Frank Chance, who will go down in baseball history as a member of the famous "Tinker to Evers to Chance" trio, succumbed to heart disease last night.

Chance had been suffering from asthma for several months and was forced to relinquish the leadership of the Chicago White Sox this year and return to his home here. Management of the Sox was turned over to Johnny Evers, his former playing mate with the Cubs.

The "Peerless Leader" first sprang into fame as first baseman and manager of the Chicago Cubs when that organization was the dominating, fighting machine of the National league victory in 1906, 1907, 1908, and 1910. In 1906, 1907, 1908, the Cubs won the world championship.

The Voice of the North

From a little ice-bound schooner—eleven and one-half degrees from the North Pole comes this message:

"Am very thankful that Arctic Exploring Ship Bowdoin is equipped with complete Zenith radio apparatus. Here at top of world, in darkness of great Arctic night, we have already listened to stations practically all over United States, from Europe, and even from far-away Honolulu. Zenith has united the ends of the earth." — Bowdoin."
